Dear Ms. Renata Hesse:

The governments of many states as well as the US government are becoming destructive to this society. They go after businesses like the tobacco companies, gun manufacturers, and companies like Microsoft. It is high time for the Microsoft suit to end. It is far from being a monopoly. As an example I do not use their operating system, yet I choose to use their Internet Explore.

If Netscape wishes to sue Microsoft over some issue that is one thing, but if the government gets involved that is quite another matter all together.

Please stop the lawsuit.

Sincerely,

Ron Williams
